

LABOR M. P.'S HERE TO STUDY 'DRY' U.S.

They Had Heard Prohibition Had Made This Land a Heaven.

NEVER BELIEVED IT
Messrs. Davidson and Stith
Cannot See Britain
Going Dry.

SEE LADY ASTOR BEATEN
Peaceful Ireland in 90 Days,
Is Their View—To Make
Two Months Tour.

British labor, keen to know whether prohibition in America is a farce or a fact, sends to this country two Labor M. P.'s, John E. Davidson, who represents the Smethwick district of Birmingham and who defeated Christabel Pankhurst, daughter of the militantly famous Emmeline, at the last election, and Charles H. Stith, member for King's Wyndford, and at 33 years the youngest of the Labor M. P.'s.

They arrived yesterday on the Baltic and after settling themselves in a lofty suite in the Biltmore talked about many things that have got the world by the ears. Prohibition, though, is first in their interest.

"We came over here for a two months' survey," said Mr. Davidson, an iron moulder not very long ago and now an influential chief in the third great political party of Great Britain. "Over there we heard all sorts of things about the heaven on earth that prohibition had brought to the States, but somehow we doubted. I make bold to say we doubted. Tell me, now, how does it work?"

Mr. Davidson was initiated into many mysteries well understood by Americans in these days.

"Oh, I see," he said. "Jolly for the rich but pretty rough on the poor, what?"

"Well," he resumed, "we in England of the ranks of labor have no faith in such queer reforms. At our Brighton conference not long ago, labor voted $2,000,000 to $247,000 against prohibition in any form, and of the 247,000 many were not at all in favor of absolute prohibition."

"Still," one reminded Mr. Davidson, "Pussyfoot Johnson and others have said that Great Britain will be as dry as the Gobi Desert within ten years."

Up to that moment Mr. Stith, recruited from the overhanging nausea of mal de mer, had been voiceless. This, however, was too much for him.

"Bally rot!" interjected Mr. Stith. "Quite right," agreed his colleague, "England will not go dry in 110 years."

The talk swung to industrial conditions, the hint of revolution, unrest, the Irish question, Lady Astor, international sport—what not.

"There is unrest in our land," said Mr. Davidson. "The trouble is that in the ranks of the Labor party are a group, numerically unimportant but very noisy, very headstrong, who want to upset the world in five minutes. It can't be done. That is how we are being led to lead. Nowadays spend our time going about and telling these hotspurs and the well meaning folk that gather around them on the street corners that it can't be done."

"What's your notion of the outcome of the Irish negotiations?"

"I have every reason to believe," Mr. Davidson said, "that within three months there will be peace between England and Ireland."

Mr. Davidson alluded to Lady Astor in a random moment.

WOMAN DYING, HIT BY STREET FIGHT SHOT

Man Also Badly Hurt in Brooklyn Row.

A man and a woman were dying last night in the Long Island College Hospital as the result of a street fight among three Italian laborers in the downtown section of Brooklyn, in which three shots were fired. The woman, Mrs. Anna Raya, 48 years old, was struck in the groin by a stray bullet as she sat in front of her dry goods store at 228 Atlantic avenue, where the fight occurred.

Angelo Puleo, 26, of 88 Atlantic avenue, was wounded in the chest. The condition of both is serious. Puleo engaged in an argument with his brother Andrea, 18, and Stephano Felicia, 21, of 335 Hicks street, according to bystanders.

After the shots were fired Felicia, they said, threw away a revolver and ran. He was caught by Patrolman John Conly and locked up on a charge of felonious assault.

HIS $600 'DIAMOND'
WORTH JUST 20 CENTS
Bergen Has Chauffeur Arrested After Trade.

Six hundred dollars is the price William Bergen of 313 Convent avenue paid for a piece of glass valued at 20 cents and because of which he caused the arrest of Eugene Navarre, a chauffeur living at 212 Grand street. Bergen told before Magistrate Francis X. McQuade in Washington Heights Court yesterday that he thought he was purchasing from Navarre a diamond he previously had appraised at $600.

The day after the appraisal he closed the deal with Navarre and two other men whom he met at the corner of 141st street and Convent avenue for four diamonds, but when he took one of the stones to be set the jeweler told him it was glass and worth about 20 cents. Navarre is held in $5,000 bail for the Grand Jury on a charge of grand larceny.

EVEN PROHIBITION MAN MUST OBSERVE LAWS
Izzy Einstein's Chauffeur
Makes Too Much Speed.

Izzy Einstein, the indefatigable prohibition enforcement agent, was in Magistrate Koehendorfer's court in Jamaica yesterday because Arthur Trotter of 276 Monroe street made too much speed in an automobile in which Einstein was riding. Trotter was fined $25 and the chauffeur was summoned.

Einstein came to court to get Trotter out, but did not succeed. The Magistrate refused to grant bail for the chauffeur to speed his car, and when Einstein said he was chasing bootleggers the Magistrate said that didn't make any difference—the law was the law and Trotter was not above it. Trotter was fined $25 and Einstein paid it.

AIRPLANES CUT RATES TO ATLANTIC CITY

Like everything else, airplane passenger rates are dropping.

That became apparent yesterday when the Aeromarine Company, operating a fleet of one and two motored flying boats, announced that the cost of the trip between New York and Atlantic City, one of the most popular routes in the United States, has been reduced to $50 for one way and $85 for a round trip. Formerly companies charged about $100 per single trip, at the rate of about a dollar a mile.

BOY'S HAND IN HYDRANT, ENGINE CO. TO RESCUE

Firemen Release Lad After Cop's Efforts Fail.

A policeman and a whole fire engine company combined were required last night to release the hand of Daniel McCloskey, 9 years old, of 431 West 123rd street, from a fire hydrant in front of his home.

The boy's hand went in the hole in the hydrant easily enough, but declined to come out. He was in the hospital after trying vainly to release it, called Engine Company 40. The firemen finally took the hydrant apart.

CANCER IN ANIMALS TREATED BY RADIUM

S. P. C. A. Reports Results
Same as With Humans.

Radium for the treatment of incipient cancer in animals is being successfully employed by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Working in connection with the society is the Memorial Hospital in Central Park West, which owns four grams of radium worth more than $400,000.

Dr. George Watson Little, surgeon at the animal hospital of the S. P. C. A., said yesterday that interesting results had been obtained in applying radium to cancer cases in horses, dogs and cats.

"We treat them almost exactly as we treat human beings in similar circumstances," Dr. Little said. "The methods are similar and the results are very similar. Radium with animals as with humans is effective only in incipient cases where the first lesion only has developed."

Have You Ever Noticed That the Straightest Stick

is crooked in water?

In forming judgments of others or in passing opinions upon current topics, let us go slow and be careful until we know all the existing circumstances.

Life is a great riddle and must be studied with the clouds of circumstances—hoping, struggling, toiling, failing, falling, temptations—and the need and value of a common sympathy, before condemnations.

Certified Antiques Au Quatrieme At Price Concessions

Very large concessions, in many instances—perhaps on the very piece you have longed to own.

Wanamaker business methods applied to the selling of antiques—no "tricks of the trade," keep goods moving no matter how fine or rare; fair working profit only—have brought unprecedented growth to AU QUATRIEME.

This very growth is now embarrassing because the new incoming shipments will overcrowd the floor. So—to make room—we offer these groups at prices that will take them into your homes, even in mid-summer.

Those who are just beginning to feel the joy of seeking for and purchasing antiques know that AU QUATRIEME is a treasure house where they can wander with confidence.

And the connoisseur knows that everything that Wanamaker has been able to learn regarding antiques is at his disposal, and also that the entire history and actual condition of each article is freely disclosed.

Purchasing may be done with confidence.

Prices before reduction averaged 45 per cent. more.

The Naked Facts

- "There is more life in the furniture trade, although there is more looking around than purchasing yet." Bradstreet's Report, July 16.
- "Grand Rapids reports a gain in interest at the Exposition." Bradstreet's Report, July 16.
- "Prices are considerably lower than a year ago, and authorities think they are stabilized." Bradstreet's Report, July 16.
- Much building of homes is going on, especially around New York, since the tax exemption; many houses, already completed, awaiting furniture. Daily Newspapers and one's own eyes.
- During and since the war homes have run down in furniture and furnishings. Your own home shows this—have a look.
- Homes and their occupants are fairly longing for new furniture—if only to make a new setting and rest the nerves. Furnishings have much effect on one's nerves.
- People have put off buying furniture because they thought it was too high in price. Common Gossip.
- It includes in the New York and Philadelphia Wanamaker Stores and in the reserve warehouses not only the largest, but we believe the most carefully selected and varied collection of true period furniture in the world. Travelers tell us so.
- Certainly the volume of business and the values offered in these sales are without serious challenge. Merchants admit this.
- Without reserve the entire stocks of good furniture, amounting to much more than a million dollars in each store, with large additional special purchases, are included in the sale. Our record books show this.
- In New York the bulk of this furniture will be offered at one-third or one-half less than the prevailing standard prices of today—and these have come down considerably. As any one can see.
- Even matched suites of bedroom, dining-room and living-room furniture are offered at half. An unusual occurrence.
- And the Belmason reproductions. Still more unusual.
- Some of the larger special lots show these surprising economies:

$17,000 overstuffed living room suites, in one pattern only, at 25 per cent. less.

$30,800 medium-priced bedroom furniture at 33 1-3 per cent. less.

$45,000 assorted lots of bedroom and dining-room furniture, walnut and mahogany, in great variety, at 40 per cent. less.

$37,200 medium-priced dining-room furniture in one pattern only, at 50 per cent. less.

$50,000 assorted lots of living-room overstuffed suites in several fabrics and styles at 50 per cent. less.

$100,000 assorted bedroom and dining-room suites, in mahogany and walnut, from four of our best makers of medium and high-grade goods, at 50 per cent. less.
